

About Kevin Johnson

Kevin Johnson has been with Aon nearly eight years and is currently serving as Regional Chief Operations Officer for Aon's US Retail Central Region supporting risk solutions and related lines of business. During his tenure Kevin also served as Vice President of Sales Operations for Aon Cornerstone Innovative Solutions. Cornerstone is a division of Aon plc specifically focused on offering supplier diversity driven solutions to new and existing clients with diversity procurement imperatives. Cornerstone's objective is to source and vet the best MWDBE firms to deliver risk management and human capital/consulting services in partnership with our Aon colleagues.

Kevin's professional career total extends over 25+ years and has included leadership roles in sales, marketing, finance, performance management and operational effectiveness representing Motorola and AT&T; both fortune 100 firms. In addition, Kevin recently authored his first book "The Success Makeover", which helps its readers to redefine success by "connecting to what matters".
