

About Mark Fuller

Mark Fuller began his career with the IBM Corporation in technology sales. After graduating from business school, he joined William Blair in the Institutional Equity business, delivering research and investment advice to professional investment advisors. In 1990, Mark joined the private wealth division with a myriad of responsibilities, including portfolio manager for the Small Cap Growth team, co-manager of the William Blair Small Cap Growth Fund, and co-manager of the William Blair Growth Fund. He works directly with a select number of families and institutions in a wealth advisory and portfolio manager capacity. Mark is a past president and executive committee member of the Kenilworth Union Church, and the Kellogg Alumni Council. He also serves the Village of Winnetka Firefighters Pension Fund, and the North Shore Art League.
